Key Facts

- Client: Cambridgeshire County Council
- Project Value: £6.5 million
- Project Status: Completed 2006
- Benefits: Students with special educational needs are able to study and learn in a modern, engaging and purpose designed environment

The Project

The needs of students are at the heart of Mouchel's education design experience. This experience was the reason for the client asking Mouchel's design team to design brand new premises for the Granta Special School, providing a modern learning environment for the students.

The Solution

The project utilised the latest techniques in designing schools for pupils with Special Educational Needs. This is exemplified in the placing of the building around a central courtyard.

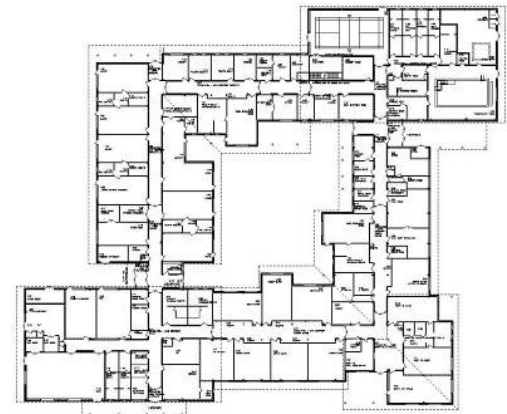

The courtyard allows the school to benefit from natural daylight to the greatest extent, giving the building a bright and open atmosphere. The height and bulk of the building's elevations are kept to a minimum.

The internal layout caters to the different age groups of the school, allowing the pupils to grow and progress around the site as they mature.

The Impact

The students are able to make use of the modern facilities and engage in learning in a structured environment. Mouchel's commitment to design excellence kept the needs of the student at the heart of the design process.

Planning carefully for the needs of the student
